

Donations

Many interns ask if they can bring material donations and if so what should they bring. Our answer to this has generally been that anything and everything can be useful. However, we recommend not bringing items that may hinder small businesspersons from selling their wares. They obviously cannot compete with free!

The following list of donations are always useful and specifically recommended:

- Used laptop computers installed with free and open source software¹ to donate to local schools
- Secondary school books (especially math, science and English books)
